Polisoft Software®

As Polisoft Software, we very well know that unless you are a non-profit organization your main purpose is to make constant profit. We would like to emphasize the word 'constant' in here! You do not want to make profit only once or twice and making loses, do you? Profits should be consistent for you to survive and stay competitive.

This rule applies to everyone and it is an accepted and well-known fact that organizations exist to generate profits or serve the public. In today's business environment market conditions change in a blink of an eye and thus companies are constantly trying to find new ways of creating business to stay as competitive as possible.
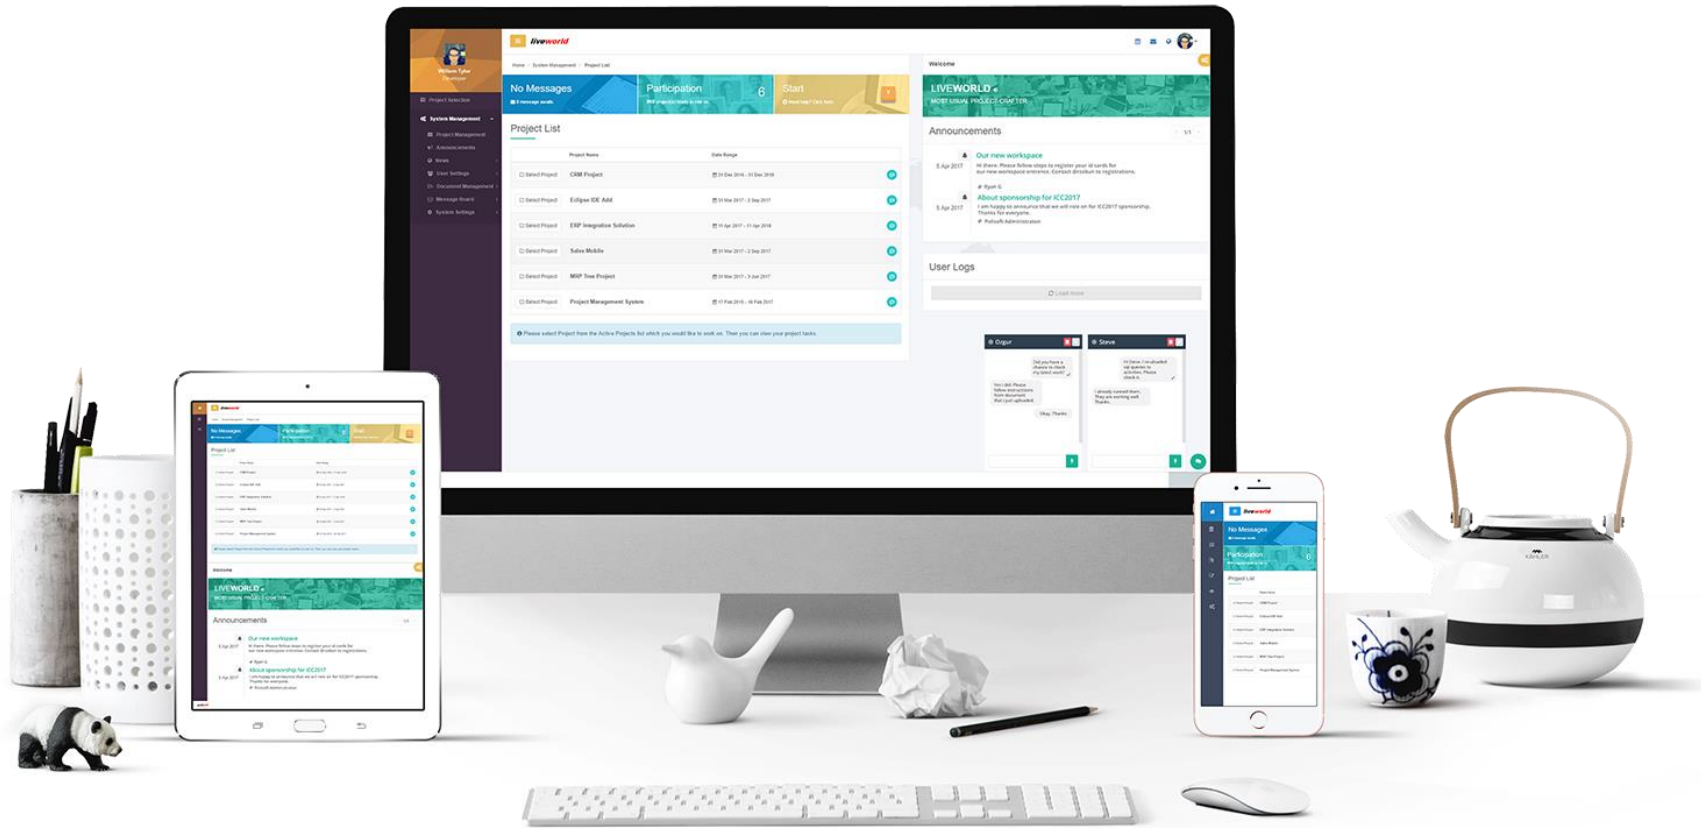

Your software projects might result from any number of business needs, requirements, opportunities or problems.

In addition, sometimes law changes force companies to make their products and services safer or make them less harmful to the environment and your new project might have been born due to these legal requirements who knows...

"THERE ARE NO LIMITS"

As Polisoft Software, we strongly believe that there are two important points to be considered by the companies to make profit in the business environment and all their software projects should be formed to achieve these two main objectives.

01 INCREASING SALES

02 REDUCING COSTS & INVENTORY

Having known that unfortunately, software projects fail at an alarming rate today and quantitative evaluations show that as many as 30% of software projects are even cancelled before completion, wasting all the time, money and effort spent on them. Furthermore, surviving projects also fail to deliver full initial project scope, or deliver late, or over run the budget. Those failures consume billions of pounds per year and they occur in all cultures and for all kinds of projects.

Polisoft Liveworld®: Shortcuts in the software

A Perfect Platform for You to Manage Software Projects

Polisoft Liveworld® is not only a project management system nor database management system. It is a combination of both, thus can provide you with whatever you need to complete your projects on time, within budget and scope by letting you fully control your projects.

By using Polisoft Liveworld ® you will be able to create, update, edit and delete MySQL based projects which is the generally used database platform by software developers.

Project based Detailed User Permissions

Our project-based User Permission Management feature will provide project managers with the power to assign the necessary permissions to project team members so as to control data changes and data access.

Detailed and Effective Database Management

Data tables and field types can be created and controlled easily by the Project Manager according to his wish then accessed by software developers. It prevents us from facing complicated data and modification anomalies.

Generate Project Works as Web Services

Polisoft Liveworld ® Code Generator enables you to export all your project works and its web service documentation by one simple click as an editable Visual Studio Project File that can be used to develop Webservices.
